

Center for Academic and Corporate Leadership (CACL)

Liaising, Learning and Leading

About Us

The center for Academic and Corporate Leadership (CACL) is aimed to augment a collaborative academia-business interface that steps up the development of academic leadership and progresses corporate leadership practices with the aid of collective experiences, insights and researches. At CACL, we develop leaders with ignited minds and souls, who can transform chaos into order, challenges into opportunities and ideas into wealth. We develop passionate and creative thought leaders with high potential to steer the industry for high growth, market leadership and sustainable futures. We also connect the talent and their ideas with MNCs and leading companies.

CACL also focuses on developing content and practice of leadership, learning innovations, research excellence, intellectual autonomy, engagement projects, institutional image, corporate relations, and global outlook. CACL is ardent to strengthen the academia-business interface and the leadership effectiveness with conviction, commitment, and capability. The activities of CACL revolve around working on the following seven Is:
